As the water in the river lowers the numbers of miners increase on the bars. There are now more men at work in this locality than we have ever known, and although we have heard of no big strikes, the most of them are satisfied with the wages they make. Saskatchewan gold has not all been taken out yet.

Labor day was very generally observed all over the Dominion, business being entirely suspended in all the trade centres. In several of the larger places there were processions of the trades and labor organizations and in the smaller towns and villages they engaged in such other recreations as were available in their locality.

THE thermometer registered seven degrees of frost here on Saturday night and was the lowest temperature yet this season. It is fortunate that nearly all the grain in this district had been cut. There were some pieces of oats and very late sown wheat still standing and the probability is that they will be badly damaged.

SAM MCNAMARA, brother of P. L. McNamara, of this town, left for the south on Friday's train. He has been appointed station agent and telegraph operator for the C. P. R. at Hector, B. WE have on exhibition in our window samples of corn, butter beans, potatoe tops pumpkins and cucumber vines sent to us on Saturday by S. K. Larson, of Stony Plain, to show that there had been no frost to damage even such tender vegetables as these These vegetables were grown in a field without any artificial protection and shows beyond a doubt that the frost spoken of in other places has not injured them up to Thursday, 5th inst.

THE Edmonton agricultural society met on Saturday afternoon in the town hall, and decided that the fall fair would be held here on Friday and Saturday the 4th and 5th of October. They appointed Messrs. Geo. Hutton, D. C. Robertson and Wm. McKay a committee to make necessary arrangements for the fair and solicit subscriptions. It was resolved to have only one judge on each class of stock and produce, and they decided to ask the council for an appropriation of $50 to assist the show. They also decided to make the charge to the show room 25 cents to all adults and that the school children in company with their teachers be admitted free on Saturday forenoon.

REV. D. G. MCQUEEN was at Fort Saskatchewan yesterday and filled the pulpit there.

EDMONTON district agricultural society's fair will be held on Friday and Saturday, October 4th and 5th.

Duck, postmaster. Rivierre Qui Barre mail goes via St. Albert, Beaumont via South Edmonton, Brudderheim via Fort Saskatchewan and Meadow creek via Calgary.

PROFESSOR DAWSON, who has lately been at the Athabasca Landing in connection with the coal oil test there, left on the last train for the east. Before leaving he told the secretary of the board of trade here that he would send him a mineralogical collection and cabinet for the use of the board. He said he would be glad to hear from them at any time, and that he would be happy to assist them in developing the mineral resources of the district.

YESTERDAY morning the steamer Minnow started with an excursion party up the river, about 16 miles, to see the big gold dredge and intending to return last evening but run aground on a bar and was delayed so that she only got to the dredge late last evening. The party had to remain there all night and only arrived in town this morning at about 10 o'clock after spending a very unpleasant night up the river. The dredge had not yet started to work. She had just been placed in position and they intended to start work this morning.

R. S. MCDONALD, the party who was arrested at Battleford about two weeks ago and sent up by the police teams which were sent to meet the premier, had his preliminary trial, on a charge of theft preferred by Ross & Moret, at Fort Saskatchewan, on Saturday and judgement reserved till today. McDonald had been sent by Ross & Moret down the river with goods to trade with miners between Fort Saskatchewan and Fort Pitt, and the prisoner after trading as far as Pitt, had gone on to Battleford. He was there on a spree, and on the supposition that he was squandering his employers' money, information was laid and he was arrested.

FIVE of the men who left here about three weeks ago to work on the railway in the south, arrived here yesterday. They had travelled about 360 miles on foot, and were very foot sore and tired. They say they were well used by the settlers on way home. They claim that they were promised $1.50 per day and board at $3.00 per week, by Calder, and that they gave him $2.50 each when he engaged them. When they arrived at their destination they were only offered $1.15 per day and had to pay $3.50 per week for board, but as they were without money they started to work. In speaking to the overseer about a pass home when the work was over he told them they would have to pay their own way home and they decided to quit work at once. Nearly all the men who went from here stopped working at the same time, some of them going east and others starting for home. These men all live near St. Albert and started again for that place yesterday evening. They say that they signed no contract for Calder, and that he did not ask them to sign one.

THE NEW CENTRAL SCHOOL.

The new school now in course of erection is situated on one of the most attractive sites in the town, standing as it does on the brow of the hill overlooking the river Saskatchewan and commanding as fine a view of the opposite banks as can be obtained within the limits and will be a credit to the place. The structure is of brick with cut stone trimmings and a stone foundation, 56x33, two stories high; metallic roofing, with a basement the whole size of the building. At the centre of the building on the front is a tower 10 feet square through which is the main entrance.

On entering the building at the main door you find a lobby the full size of the tower with stairway leading to the second story six feet wide and doors on either sides leading to the school rooms on the first floor. The school rooms are all the same size, 24x32 feet, with 14 foot ceilings and high wainscotting. The casing is of British Columbia fir, and the mouldings cedar. There is an entrance at the rear or north side also in the centre of the building, entering which you find a hat and cloak room, six feet wide and twelve feet long and stairway leading to the basement and a door on each side leading to the two school rooms on the first flat. Going up the stairs from the front entrance there is a landing about 6x12 feet which will make a hat and cloak room for the scholars on the upper story. On each side of this landing is a door entering the school rooms on this flat and at the south side of the building is a class room 9x17 partly in the tower and partly over the stairway. The building will be ventilated by flues running through the chimneys and heated by two furnaces placed in the basement. Altogether it will be a good substantial building and well up to the times.

NORTHWEST ASSEMBLY.

Regina, Sept. 3rd, '95.

Resolutions respecting the payment of members of the Northwest assembly were introduced by Mr. Haultain. The resolutions were rendered necessary by the action of parliament at last session which established the provision in the Northwest act providing for the payment of members and left the matter under the control of the assembly. The resolutions were agreed to and embodied in a bill, with provisions for the resignation of members of the assembly, a matter also referred to local control. The members indemnity was fixed at $500 per session, the same as before, subject to dockage of $10 for every day's absence; and $500 extra for the speaker.

Mr. Ross's appointment on the executive was confirmed, and Mr. Page was elected deputy speaker.

Mowat was granted an order of the house showing the pay of the several members of the executive committee. He explained that this was not for the purpose of bringing out the facts as to the addition of Mr. Ross as a third resident member of the executive.

In reply to Simpson, Haultain said that the public accounts for the year '93-94 would be printed before the close of this session.

Clinkskill withdrew his motion for a return respecting the distribution of relief last fall on the assurance of Haultain that before the estimates were brought down a full statement regarding the relief would be laid before the house.

Bills were introduced respecting alimony; to amend the chattle mortgage ordinance, and to amend the municipal ordinance.

The following standing committees were appointed:

Standing orders: Knowling, Sutherland, Gilles, Haultain, Lincham, Myers, Clinkskill and Boucher.

Public accounts: Insinger, Neff, Eakin, Bulyer, Brown, Ross, Fearon, Brett, Oliver, Tims, Clinkskill, Mitchell and Reid.

Agriculture: Dill, Eakin, Insinger, Gillis, Knowling, Page, Bannerman, Critchley, Lincham, Tims, Maloney, Mitchell, Boucher, Myers and Reid.

Municipal law: Mowat, Dill. Bulyer, Ross, Bannerman, Critchley, Simpson and Reid.

Law amendments: Brown, Fearon, Clinkskill, Neff, Tims, Eakin, Knowling, Magrath, Bannerman, Critchley.

THE LIEUT. GOVERNORSHIP OF MANITOBA.

Free Press:

Ottawa, Sept. 2.—Hon. J. C. Patterson was sworn in lieutenant-governor of Manitoba this morning, in the presence of Sir Adolphe Caron, Sir Hibbert Tupper and Hon. Mr. Ouimet. The new governor immediately left for Winnipeg, via Toronto. Pending his arrival in the province, Sir John Schultz will act as administrator.

The Hon. James Colebrooke Patterson is a son of the late Rev. James Patterson, formerly of Kingston, near Dublin. He was born at Armagh, in 1839, and educated at Dublin. He is a barrister by profession, and practiced in Ontario. Before entering politics he was reeve of Windsor for several years. His first parliamentary experience was in the Ontario legislature, to which he was elected at the general elections of 1875, as the representative of the north riding of Essex. He resigned before the expiration of his term, and was returned to the Commons at the general elections in 1878, and has had a seat in the house continuously from that time until 1891, when he was defeated, but was subsequently given a portfolio, and elected for Huron, that constituency having been opened by the unseating of the Liberal member, M. C. Cameron.

At the time of his elevation to the cabinet, an eastern contemporary spoke of Mr. Patterson as follows:

"It is notable in the case of J. C. Patterson, now minister of militia, that by reason of a single display of independence, he was slow in entering into his political reward. He had represented North Essex, and had risen to such eminence in the counsels of the party that he had become entitled to a seat in immediate proximity to the benches of the ministers. But in the session of 1887, when the government desired its followers to legalize by their vote the electoral affair in Queen's county, New Brunswick, he flatly refused to acknowledge the right of the returning officer to reverse the decision of the electors. He voted with the Opposition, and he has not since lost the respect which the Opposition accorded him at that time. But he fell in the favor of the government, and won its good will again only by dint of sledgehammer work as Dalton McCarthy's successor to the presidency of the Conservative association of Ontario. His re-established influence in the party carried him through his crushing defeat in Essex at the last general election, when he fell before the unequivocal demand of a border county for wider trade relations with the United States, and at the first opportunity he was given a position in the cabinet, while as yet he had no constituency. He is a gentleman of a prepossessing exterior, but is handicapped in the house by a weak voice, and is generally an unpleasing speaker."

NEBRASKANS TO LOCATE IN ALBERTA.

There has been received at the Department of the interior the report of the two delegates, Messrs. Jacob Bender and John Peters, who were sent out from Friend, Neb., to look up suitable locations for settlement in the Canadian Northwest. Their investigations were confined chiefly to the Stony Plain and Beaver Hills districts. The delegates are Germans and from the German settlers at Stony Plain they obtained full and reliable information of the climate, crops and general conditions of the northwestern country. The comparison which they make between these and the conditions which obtain in Nebraska is certainly most favorable to the Canadian Northwest. Delegate Bender, in the course of his report, states: "I find that at Stony Plain, Alberta, my countrymen who have settled there for the past four years have no taxes to pay, no municipal charges of any kind; their crops are invariably as to roots, native grass, barley, and oats, an unqualified success. They have near at hand, if not upon their very homestead, all the timber which they and their children require for generations to come. Their cattle roam at large over rich natural pastures for from seven to ten months in the year. Abundant native hay is available for winter feed. In short, the essential conditions of comforable existence are of cheap and easy accomplishment. They are not putting by much money, but they are increasing their cattle rapidly, improving their buildings, and so far as I can see are absolutely secure in a comfortable livelihood for themselves and children for all time." Bender adds that he came out to Edmonton expecting to find a much less favorable state of affairs. In this connection he asserts a fact that is apparent to almost everyone in Canada, when he says, "What letters we see down in Nebraska in the local press are usually written by people who have been disappointed, who have failed for whatever reason found. I am not going to argue the matter with them. I'll just say that this Edmonton district suits me and I mean to settle in it. I expect there may be 15 families who will come up with me as soon as we can get our affairs in Nebraska settled, perhaps this fall, and I shouldn't be surprised if next spring 50 or even 100 families followed our example."

BRITISH POLITICS.

London despatches of Sept. 1st, says: That the hurriedly convened cabinet council on Wednesday night in the room of the Right Hon. A. J. Balfour, first lord of the treasurey, has created sensational rumors as to what the subject under discussion was. The fact that Geo. N. Curzon was sent for is taken to indicate that the subject was urgent foreign business. This is borne out by the fact that England in time of peace has rarley had such a perplexing variety of international complications on hand as now, each full of possibilities which might well keep the ministers from their beds. Thus far no hint has been dropped as to which particular phase of the general imbroglio has caused this hasty gathering, but the supposition is that it was Armenia. Subterranean intrigues as subtle and prolonged as those which proceeded the Crimean war still holds the whole Armenian question open.

The anniversary of the Sasson massacre finds nothing redressed, nothing settled, nothing even in a fair way of settlement.

Lord Salisbury's position is difficult indeed. He has had nothing to do with the policy of the British foreign office in the past, and little sympathy with the original agitation against Turkey, but having inherited this muddle is bound, like a true Briton to see it through.

It seems admitted that Lord Salisbury has made a new stipulation that the proposed committee of Armenian control must consist of seven instead of six, of which four must be Christians. It is less certain that the Sultan has appealed to Russia and France for support against this demand.

As to the statement that negotiations for a European congress have already begun, nobody knows whether it is true or not.

Mr. Healey has apparently set out with a determination to keep the house in session until the close of September, unless Mr. Balfour would make some legislative concessions which would enable him to go back to Ireland and say that he has done something, when his colleagues where either sulking in their tents or scuttling from the field. This is part of his campaign to secure the Irish leadership. The end of the session is now in sight, and cannot be deferred by Mr. Healey's ambition. He will go back to Ireland without having accomplished any practical result, but probably with increased prestige as a leader who never knows when he is beaten.

No important speech has been made from the ministerial bench this week. The government has had only one policy, that of securing the financial votes and postponing everything else, until February.

HORRIBLE FATE OF HOWARD PIETZEL.

Free Press:

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—Coroner Carter's jury has brought in a verdict that the remnants of the body found in the chimney hole of the house at Irvington are the remains of young Howard Pietzel, and that he came to his death through the instrumentality of cyanide of potassium administered by H. H. Holmes. Towards the conclusion of the inquest some interesting testimony was given by Navin and Perrie. John Navin said that Holmes visited his store frequently during the first week of October. Several times he purchased a solution of cocoaine, and at one time called for four grains of morphine dissolved in a two drachm vial of water. Dr. Navin readily recognized him by a photograph. Druggist Perrie sold Holmes at one time a pound of chloroform. This was on October the second. Holmes several times lounged about his drug store accompanied by a little boy who he said was his son and for whom he bought candy. As recognized by a photograph, the boy was little Howard. Dentists and doctors also contributed evidence that the remains were those of young Pietzel. During the day Doctors Thompson and Barnhill cleaned up some of the bones found. The lower part of the intestines and stomach, with parts of the liver and spleen were found, also the first vertebrae at the base of the skull, Adam's apple and cheek bones. The physicians say that no doubt these are the remains of a boy the age of Howard Pietzel. In the charred mass that was pulled out of the chimney hole fifteen teeth were found. Dr. J. O. Byram, dentist, was called in. He sorted the teeth and found seven upper and eight lower teeth. He set these in imitation jaws of plaster paris and sent them to the coroner. He also found a piece of lower left jaw bone containing sockets of a six-year-old molar. Irvington physicians are of the opinion that Holmes gave the boy cyanide of potassium, and while he was under this influence doubled the body up and put it into the stove, after which he covered it with cobs, pieces of trunk and chunks of wood. Then he saturated the pile with coal oil, and reduced everything, as he supposed, to ashes. After the body was destroyed and the stove cooled down, he shovelled the ashes into the stove hole. The stove was in the kitchen and Holmes was not aware there was an opening in the flue in the cellar beneath where the stove stood. It was his failure to find this opening that brought about the discovery of the charred remains.

There is a probability of the British Dairy Farmers' association holding their next annual meeting in Canada. This will mean, if satisfactory arrangements can be made, the visit to this country next year of between 75 and 100 representative British agriculturalists. The secretary of the association has already been in communication with the high commissioner in London on the subject.

ABSURD ON ITS FACE.

Winnipeg Tribune.

If Mr. J. C. Patterson, the prospective lieutenant-governor of Manitoba, has the slightest apprehension that he would be met here with a hostile demonstration on coming to assume the duties of lieutenant gover nor, because of the attitude of the Dominion government on the school question, let him set his mind at rest at once and come right along. A report to the effect that Mr. Patterson was apprehensibe of trouble when he came was wired to the Tribune by its Ottawa corespondent on Wednesday. How it arose it is difficult to say, but it is regrettable that such a rumor should have been circulated at the capital, and that it should have reached Mr. Patterson's ear. Mr. Patterson can rest assured that he is not in the slightest danger in coming to assume the duties of office to which he is understood to be appointed. We are confident that there does not exist a man in Manitoba who has anything against Mr. Patterson, or who would do him the slightest injury, even if the Dominion government forced separate schools upon us. Manitobans have too high a respect for the constitution, and we trust, have to much common sense to even experience a feeling of hostility towards Mr. Patterson personally, because of the political course the Dominion government may pursue on the school question. Our people would much prefer to have the office of lieutenant-governor filled by a local man, one of ourselves, but if Mr. Patterson has the appointment and is coming, he can rely upon being loyally and warmly received. Our people are a generous people, and under no circumstances would stoop to such conduct as that hinted at in the dispatch. In coming to discharge the duties of lieutenant-governor's office, Mr. Patterson would be running no more personal risk to life and limb than if Queen Victoria herself were to come. Of this Mr. Patterson can rest assured. We are ashamed that such a rumor as that alluded to should have ever been put in circulation.

CONFERENCE BETWEEN BOWELL AND GREENWAY.

Free Press.

Mr. T. Greenway was seen yesterday morning by a Free Press reporter with reference to the Calgary dispatch published in the morning paper regarding a possible conference between the federal and provincial premiers. Mr. Greenway was not disposed to regard the communication very seriously, and said he had heard nothing of it.

In answer to a question on the subject, he said that the reply of the province to Ottawa on the school difficulty had been passed by the provincial legislature, and that he should therefore expect if such a meeting with premier Bowell as was predicted ever came about, to lay any proposals the latter might have to make upon the matter before the full house, and that the executive council would not take upon itself to settle the question off hand.

"You have no objection to talking the matter over with the federal premier?"

"O, none at all, none at all," said the premier. "There can be no possible objection to hearing what Mr. Bowell has to say on the subject, and if he wants to talk it over we shall be glad to hear, but I have not been informed of his intentions."

GENERAL NEWS.

The weekly Alberta Tribune of the 3rd inst. contains the announcement that with that day's issue it will cease the publication of its daily edition, and will hereafter only publish the weekly edition. After giving his reasons for stopping the daily issue, the editor says: "These circumstances convince the Tribune that there is no field in Calgary for two daily papers, however conducted. It is very doubtful whether there is a field for even one, particularly if run at the expense the present standard necessitates. The Tribune will not publish an inferior daily; and, in any case, it has no mind to try a further doubtful experiment, even if guaranteed the daily field to itself. It has, therefore, decided to abandon vain attempts to supply what the community cannot afford to support, and to confine its attention to that for which there is an excellent field.

The Hyams' trial at the fall assizes commences on November 6th, and the crown officers have already mapped out a plan of campaign. No effort will be spared to secure the conviction of the Hyams brothers by the prosecution of crown evidence and the impugnment of defence witnesses. An effort will be made to put in the evidence relating to the alleged attempt to insure Mrs. Harry Hyams.

THE YACHT RACE.

Eastern dispatches of August 30th, say: Yesterday's race showed the Defender in a more favorable light than any in which she has sailed, but the relapsed time, eighteen minutes, gives a wholly wrong impression of her superiority to the Vigilant. Had the wind held through to the end she would have won by about eight minutes on the 24 mile course. From this must be deducted say two minutes for good fortune on the first leg pin catching the best part of a new wind before her rival, and nearly as much more for her position in the squall, which came down on the yachts near the finish. She did not experience the full fury of the wind which held the Vigilant luffed up for a couple of minutes while she doused her club topsail and jib topsail. With these allowances it will be seen that the Defender just about maintained her customary lead. The test was more creditable to her than usual because she did so well in the gust of heavy wind. Through the blow, which lasted about twelve minutes, she carried her medium sized club topsail with wonderful stiffness and suffered no more serious accident that the tearing out of her jib sheets, which resulted in the carrying away of the sail. Her crew had a new sail set in its place within six minutes. The Vigilant meanwhile was unable to carry her great club topsail, but while the Defender was working through a thirty-five mile an hour blast the Vigilant had fully 42 or 43 miles an hour of wind to stand up against. The Defender held the strong wind to the finish while the Vigilant was becalmed soon after her rival crossed the line. Of the Valkyrie's work it is sufficent to say that those who are best qualified to speak now think she is as dangerous as her most enthusiastic supporters have declared.

The times of the yachts at the finish were: Defender—Start, 11:10.08; outer mark, 12:47.25; finish, 2:04.16; elapsed, 2:52.10. Vigilant—Start, 11:10.18; outer mark, 12:53.42; finish, 2:07.40; elapsed, 2:57.22.

The America's cup committee formally decided at a meeting held on the committee's boat this afternoon to select Defender to meet Valkyrie for the America's cup races.

Before going to the New York club this evening, Lord Dunraven was the guest of honor at a dinner given by Mr. Kersey at the Union club. Those present at the dinner included Wm. K. Vanderbilt, C. Oliver Iselin, E. D. Morgan, A. Cass Canfield and F. Gray Griswald. The dinner was entirely informal. There were no speeches and the chief topics discussed concerned the yacht races.

The New York papers all comment on the race.

The Herald says: It showed that the Defender's rigging is now sturdy and staunch, and that the Valkyrie is a very fast boat in light weather. The first will be pleasant information to American yachtsmen, and the latter will have to be believed even if it be not liked by the loyal millions of the land. The Defender beat the Vigilant easily and decisively. That feather will be worn very modestly, and only a few words of commendation will be sought by those in charge of the aluminum boat because of her victory and the able seamanship shown by her skipper.

The Morning Advertiser says: "Under every condition of the most moodish weather yesterday the Defender demonstrated her superiority over any boat that has ever sailed over the cup course. There can no longer be any doubt as to what will become of the America's cup. The gallant Defender settled that question yesterday, when she proved herself to be the best boat that ever had canvas set in our waters."

The Journal: "The result showed that the Defender need not fear the competition of anything that floats in a blow."

The World: "When all is said and done, however, the fact remains that the Defender has at last beaten the Vigilant by a margin that leaves no doubt as to the new boat's essential and great superiority. Whether she can outfoot the big racing yacht, the Valkyrie III, nobody knows, and until there has been a race between them, one man's guess is as good as another's."

The Sun has this to say: "The Defender, the hope of all who wish to see once more the triumph of 'Old Glory,' not only showed herself clearly superior to the old champion in every point, but she did it in a most wonderful fashion. In the early part of the race the speed that was developed, when every rag of canvas hung limp, must have given the Englishmen a pain as they looked on from the deck of their cutter which had brought them out to get a line on the Yankee, and when it came to the squall the way the Defender stood up and faced it, and the way she drove through it while facing it, were matters quite as delightful to every American as they were ominous to the challenging party."

The Tribune says: "Through it all the Defender held the lead with ease. Her work when the squall came up was specially gratifying to her admirers, and must have opened the eyes of our English friends."

The Times remarks: "The Valkyrie was out to see the fun, and incidentally she overtook the competing yachts in a manner that must have alarmed a good many of the spectators."

London dispatches of Aug. 30th, says: In the house of commons to-day Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, colonial secretary, stated that he failed to find good reasons why the late governernment granted £80,000 relief to Newfoundland. Hon. Mr. Chamberliain made the statment replying to Sir Charles Dilke, that he did not think that the condition of affairs in this colony, after the failure of the banks, amounted to such distress and suffering sufficient to justify this assistance. The distress, he added, no doubt arose from the bad administration of the affairs of the colony.

Chester Holcomb, who has just returned from China after twenty-one years' service in the American legation at Pekin, says the recent massacre was traceable to the results of the Chinese-Japanese war. "At the commencement of the war between China and Japan," said he, "it was generally feared the lives of foreigners in China would be in great danger as long as the war lasted, and it is only since hostilities ceased that danger has commenced. In the first place the great mass of Chinese are disappointed with the result of the war, and are taking revenge on all foreigners whom they can kill with impunity. In the second place killing and pillaging receives great encouragement by reason of depredations committed by hordes of disbanded soldiers all over the country.

LOCAL.

PARTIES having horses running at large at this time of the year should bear in mind that the water is getting very low in the small sloughs and lakes, and the animals, in attempting to reach it, become mired in the soft ground. Already several horses have been dragged out by settlers in the vicinity of Two lakes, two of which died shortly after being taken out.

IN reply to complaints about the delay in judging the essays in connection with the Territorial fair, a government paper says: The essays were to be in on July 20th, and 106 competitors entered. Thirty-three on "How to Make the Farm Pay"; 30 on "The North-West as a Field for Immigrants"; 20 on "How to Destroy the Gopher Pest"; 8 on "Irrigation"; 10 on "Hog Raising and Ham and Bacon Curing"; and four on "Dairy Products and Cheese Making." These comprise about 1,000 pages of matter, and will require at least a month, or perhaps two, to be judged.

FATHER LACOMBE RETURNED.

The Rev. Father Lacombe returned last Thursday in good health, but very tired after his long and busy trip. On being asked as to the prospects of the track and bridge he said that he did not wish to say anything until the first meeting of the town council when he would make his report.

In referring to his scheme for the assistance of the Metis he said he had good hopes of it being carried out—he believes that the H. B. Co., will assist liberally—and it is meeting with the sympathy and liberality of his numerous friends. "In the old time" says Father Lacombe "these people were our consolation by their kind conduct and good character, and now, although they are unfortunately degenerated from their golden age, we love them still, and will do all we can to reclaim them.

STURGEON.

The weather has been rather cold during the past week or two considering the time of year; but there has not been as much damage done to crops by the frosts as was surmized. Crops are good on new land in this district, and on old land they are fair. Harvesting is well under way, and another few days free from frost the great bulk of the crop will be secured in good condition.

Mr. Bush returned from the Landing on the 5th inst., having taken two loads of freight for Mr. A. L. Brick. He reports great number of miners at the Athabasca who are on their way to Edmonton. They say there is better prospects on the Saskatchewan than on the Athabasca.

Sept. 6th, 1895.

VISIT OF LORD AND LADY ABERDEEN TO CALGARY HOSPITAL.

On their Excellencies return from the Sarcee Reserve,, they paid a visit to the Calgary General Hospital. A pleasing episode in their visit was in connection with a young half-breed girl from the north who had a violin beside her. Seeing the instrument, Her Excellency enquired if she played, and on being answered in the affirmative, enquired if she had ever had lessons. This was answered negatively and then her Excellency instructed Dr. Mackid to arrange that the young girl should have lessons at her expense. Apropos of this young girl, a short history of her case might be given here. Her father is a hunter in the far north, constantly moving about from place to place, taking his daughter with him and living in a tent all the time. This summer, when about 60 miles beyond Edmonton, she had the misfortune to break her leg by falling from her horse. The fracture was reduced by a northern doctor, but was not properly done, and after a week or two it was found that the injured limb was about eight inches shorter than the other, with a portion of the bone badly out of place. Her father then decided to bring her to the Calgary hospital and the trip took five days, and was made in a lumber wagon. On reaching the hospital the injured limb was attended to. The young girl's bright, cheerful disposition won the hearts of the entire hospital staff and all visitors who saw her. On one occasion, when lady visitors were sympathizing with her and her misfortunes, she smilingly remarked: "Oh, well, I always try to look on the bright side." "But, said one of the ladies, "if it is something hard to find a bright side," when she replied: "Then I try to polish up the dark one." It is particularly pleasant to know that so deserving a young girl has attracted the attention and sympathy of Her Excellency, Lady Aberdeen.

GENERAL NEWS.

A Portland Ore., dispatch to the Free Press of Sept. 3, says: The prevalence of cholera in Honolulu and in the Orient has created a scare here. The local board of health is already adopting stringent measures to repel its invasion. City Physician Wheeler says at no time have the Pacific cost cities been so seriously menaced by the scourge as now. He says the situation is alarming. The people must not be deceived, and the health ordinances must be rigorously enforced. All vessels coming here from foreign ports will be carefully examined and quarantined if necessary.

MY SWEETHEART.

Do you know my sweetheart, sir;
She has fled and gone away.
I've lost my love; pray tell to me
Have you seen her pass to-day.

Dewy bluebells are her eyes;
Golden corn her waving hair;
Her cheeks are of the sweet blush-roses;
Have you seen this maiden fair?

While lilies are her neck, sir;
And her breath the eglantine;
Her rosy lips the red carnation;
Such is she, this maiden mine.

The light wind is her laughter;
The murmuring brooks her son;
Her tears, so full of tender pity,
In the clouds are borne along.

The sunbeams are her smiles;
The leaves her footsteps light;
To kiss each coy flower into life
Is my true love's delight.

I will tell you who she is,
And how all things become her.
Bend down, that I may whisper
My sweetheart's name is—"Summer."

FATHER LACOMBE'S MISSION.

A Montreal dispatch says: "Rev. Father Lacombe, the veteran Northwest missionary, in an address yesterday at Notre Dame church on the work of the association for the propagation of the faith, concluded by an appeal for what, he said, will be the last work of his life, the salvation of the Metis. 'To-day they are doomed. They have sold their lands for a song; they are children, and they have been reduced to poverty. There are 9,000 of them.' Father Lacombe proposes to form a syndicate between himself, Mgr. Grandin, Mgr. Langevin, Pascal, and Hon. Alderic Ouimet. These will lease a large tract of land in perpetuity from the federal government for a nominal rent. This tract would be on the north side of the Saskatchewan, below Edmonton. In the centre would be a religious agricultural establishment, which it is proposed to place ultimately in the hands of the Trappists. All the Metis would be invited to take lots on this land for a nominal rent, but they would not have the right to alienate the land. If the scheme does not succeed, the land would revert to the government. The sanction of the federal government is still wanted, but Father Lacombe has hopes that it will be granted. Sir Mackenzie Bowell has told him: 'To save this people will be for you an act of Christianity; for us it will be an act of patriotism.'"

A Free Press Washington dispatch says: An attempt has been made in some quarters to work up a diplomatic controversy over the Alaska boundary survey between the United States and Great Britain. The status of the case now is that the boundary is to be settled by an agreement between the two countries, after a survey has been made. Both countries make an independent survey, but these surveyes do not settle the boundary, but will have to be agreed upon by both countries at some time in the future. Because the survey, which is now being made by Great Britian, includes certain territory which people in Alaska and Washington believe rightfully belongs to the United States, an impression has been created that the survey settles the boundary and that the United States should protest against it. The survey by the United states may be satisfactory to Great Britain. As both surveys are made independently, they are preliminary to an international agreement. Until the surveys are completed nothing else will be done.
